and Native Americans in Science (SACNAS-IUB) Student Chapter

Preamble

Indiana University Bloomington - Society for the Advancement of Chicanos and Native
Americans in Science (SACNAS-IUB) Student Chapter

SACNAS is a society of scientists dedicated to advancing Hispanics/Chicanos, Native Americans and any other underrepresented minorities in science. We are a national nonprofit organization of individuals and organizations interested in quality science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) research, teaching, leadership, and policy.

Mission

SACNAS-IUB fosters the success of Hispanic/Chicano and Native American scientists—from college students to professionals—to attain advanced degrees, careers, and positions of leadership in science through mentoring.

Goals/Outcomes

1. To further the work of, to improve the effectiveness of, and to enhance the public understanding of and appreciation for Chicanos, Latinos, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other underrepresented minorities in science;
2. To cooperate with other individuals, organizations, clubs, and other groups whose purposes include the achievement of public understanding for Chicanos, Latinos, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other underrepresented minorities in the sciences;
3. To promote student recruitment and retention of Chicanos, Latinos, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other underrepresented minorities in science at Indiana University; and
4. To provide a forum for students from different science majors and science related majors to come together for academic, community service and social activities at Indiana University.
5. To provide mentoring to Chicanos, Latinos, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other underrepresented minorities in science

All officers: Every officer should attend all regular meetings and officer meetings to remain in good standing, unless there is a documented conflict. To avoid such a situation, each officer should provide and coordinate their schedule to enable choosing the best time for all parties. When situations arise where an officer will not be present at a scheduled event, then they should inform their fellow officers and arrange for their duties to be carried out in their stead.

When an officer position is unfilled, it falls to the president to delegate and distribute the necessary duties of the unfilled position to the current officers. It therefore behooves all officers to search out a qualified individual to fill the empty position as soon as possible, as per Article VI Section 3.

Every officer reserves the right to bring forth a complaint that they are not being heard (or opinion discounted) or to request that a process be changed to make it more efficient or better to accomplish our goals, or to remove an undue burden from themselves. They are welcome to bring complaints to the president or to speak with the advisor to resolve an issue/conflict. Their right is for other members of the team to pull their weight so that we can be an effective organization.

Section 1. Resignations

1. An officer may resign from office at any time, by giving written notice to the president or vice president. The written notice of resignation must be received and acknowledged by the governing body of officers.
